

Press Release	Saint Luke's Place CEO Presents at OANHSS Governance Workshop
Release Date	November 2014

Saint Luke's Place Chief Executive Officer, Brian Swainson, has been invited to present at a two-day professional development workshop "Long-Term Care Governance and Leadership" hosted later this month by the Ontario Association of Non-Profit Homes and Services for Seniors (OANHSS).

Workshop description:

"Boards and committees of management have unique and vital roles as stewards in long term care. In this era of transformation and heightened accountability, it is critical that governing bodies understand their legislative obligations, have the information they need for strategic decision making, and have the capacity to shape and drive the vision for the organization.

Join us for this special session designed for not-for profit long term care board and committee of management members. You will gain insights into the current long term care environment and understand the government's expectations for the sector. It will address key components of long term care specifically from a governance perspective including relevant legislation and legal obligations, service agreements, funding and reporting, provincial quality initiatives, working with Local Health Integration Networks (LHINs), and public relations and reputation management. Interactive sessions, panel presentations and case studies will offer opportunities to share experiences and hear about the value of building community partnerships and external relationships."

Mr. Swainson will present an interactive workshop with a focus on reporting indicators at the Board governance level in Long-Term Care.
